Dear Mr. Trump,

Thank you for fighting for this country!!! I thought you might like to know that another famous person in our country's past history also fought for years with blood, sweat and tears about the dangers of open immigration. He tried to awaken America to the fact that if we didn't CLOSE our borders and STOP immigration into this country, it would destroy America.

His name is Samuel Morse. He invented the Morse Code and wrote the book, "Foreign Conspiracy Against the Liberties of the United States". He also wrote many articles for the New York Observer predicting the destruction of America if its borders were left open to immigration. Regarding the immigration crisis in his day, he said "We are the dupes of our own hospitality" and our strangers "turn their host and his family out of doors!"

His prophetic words from the past reinforce everything you are saying today. America needs to know you are not alone in your fight to "fix" our immigration policy. Adding his voice to your platform will bolster your efforts towards ending our immigration tragedy. America needs a man with a powerful voice and vision, who has the passion of Samuel Morse' and Morse' love for this country to get it done....and that man is you!

If American citizens could know you are not alone in trying to stop the plague caused by open borders and that another popular figure, Samuel Morse, also fought throughout his life to protect and save this country from being destroyed, it might wake people up to the seriousness of the immigration issue that has overwhelmed our nation. Our citizens need to know there are other Americans who have worked and pleaded to stop the immigration plague in order to save this nation.

Three of our Presidents: Herbert Hoover, Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower successfully deported millions of illegal aliens back to their countries. These loyal Americans worked hard to end the immigration problem, just like you are committed to accomplishing.

- Back during the great depression, Herbert Hoover ordered the deportation of ALL illegal aliens in order to make jobs available to American citizens that desperately needed work.
- Harry Truman deported over two million illegal aliens after WWII to create jobs for returning veterans.
- In 1954 Dwight Eisenhower deported 13 million Mexicans. The program was called Operation Wetback. It was done so WWII and Korean veterans would have a better chance at jobs. It took two years, but they deported them!

If presidents could deport millions of illegal aliens back then, why not today? Actually the answer is quite simple. Hoover, Truman, and Eisenhower were men of honor, not untrustworthy politicians looking for votes while advancing a One-World-Order of enslavement!

Most Americans do not know that what they see happening in this country is not of recent origin. The One World Order agenda that promotes the intermingling of nations and peoples into a One World Order has been around ever since the Tower of Babel. America was never to be a "melting pot!"

Who was Samuel Morse?

Samuel Finley Breese Morse (April 27, 1791–April 2, 1872) was born in Charlestown, Massachusetts, the first child of a geographer and Pastor Jedidiah Morse (1761–1826) and

Elizabeth Ann Finley Breese (1766–1828). He was the famous American inventor of the telegraph and Morse Code. He invented a single-wire telegraph system based on European telegraphs and was also an accomplished painter labeled the “American Leonardo.”

Samuel Morse was also the leader of the anti-immigration movement of the mid-19th century. On this topic, he wrote, “We must first stop the leak in the ship through which muddy waters from without threaten to sink us.” He was the author of a number of letters to the New York Observer in 1835 urging this country to fight the "Catholic immigration menace." His articles were widely reprinted in many newspapers. He was convinced the Austrian government and Catholic aid organizations were subsidizing Catholic immigration to the United States in order to gain control of this country. Which, of course, was and still is Rome’s pontifical plan to make America a Catholic country for the coming One World Order.

In 1810, Samuel Morse graduated from Yale with Phi Beta Kappa honors. In his articles and in his book, Foreign Conspiracy Against the Liberties of the United States/The Number of Brutus, Morse wrote:

“Surely American Protestants, freemen, have discernment enough to discover beneath them the cloven foot of this subtle foreign heresy. They will see that Popery is now, what it has ever been, a system of the darkest political intrigue and despotism, cloaking itself to avoid attack under the sacred name of religion. They will be deeply impressed with the truth, that Popery is a political as well as a religious system; that in this respect it differs totally from all other sects, from all other forms of religion in the country.”

Samuel Morse, made it strikingly clear in his book that America has been targeted by powerful almost supernatural powers, under the guise of a "celebrated peace-loving religion" in order to pursue its take-over of this Protestant nation. This process has continued for almost 250 years or ever since this nation was established as a Protestant nation. Today, most immigrants still come from catholic countries and now also from other countries also under the guise of a peace-loving religion. Both have as their unexpressed or expressed goal, in accord with their own particular religious beliefs, the conquering of America for their own religious agendas. This is why every war on earth has been a "holy war". Because few Americans discern the enemies in our midst, in their various disguises, it is only prudent to control our borders.

This country has been infiltrated by “wolves in sheep’s clothing” coming from countries whose goal is to conquer America by populating it with their own citizens to change it into an image of their own making. This "Trojan Horse" in our midst is orchestrated behind the scenes under the cover of religion but which operate as powerful political factions and enemies of America.

Americans charitably treat all its immigrants as friends. We open our hearts, our borders and pocketbooks to everyone not realizing this could be the means our enemies would use to destroy this country. We unselfishly hand foreigners the keys to our kingdom in free handouts, free food, free education, free business loans, free medical care, housing and free money for every foreign child birthed in this country. All the while our own citizens born and raised in this country for generations back to the founding fathers struggle to survive, are unemployed and get no help from any direction in the now bankrupt country of their birth. Is there a conspiracy in America against its own people and its very existence? America is being taken down right before our eyes and most are blind to the origins of the real conspiracy!

Should immigrants who have not worked in this country go back to their native country receiving benefits from a social security check from America that they didn't earn? Is it America's responsibility to support the world's indigent population? So why is this happening? It is due to a hidden agenda of which most Americans are totally ignorant.

Patrick J. Buchanan stated, "Immigration is not a right that belongs to anybody and everybody who wants to come here. It is a privilege we Americans alone decide to convey." He said, "Whole countries are moving here. It's the issue of the century!"

This is definitely the "issue of the century", more than we realize! Truly, "whole countries are moving here!" If we want to know what is behind our massive immigration problem, Samuel Morse reveals the behind-the-scenes nefarious stratagem to take down America. He endeavored to prevent the very thing that is happening today. But who has ears to hear? Over one-hundred eighty years ago he saw the handwriting on the wall and where it would lead if our borders were not closed. Unless the citizens of this country understand why America is facing this issue of immigrants swarming into this country, it will be hard to stop it.

Dr. Richard Ruling writes: "Because America's Constitution has been anathema to Rome, Jesuits from the days of Lincoln have studied how to divide and conquer the US...Rome promoted Hitler and in the Axis Alliance they signed a concordat to support him in return for making the world Catholic when he won World War II. After losing, they are now using the United Nations to regain supremacy they lost in the Old World, aiming for a New World Order (Novus Ordo Seclorum on our $1 bill)."

We face a problem of enormous prophetic proportions and significance. What does the Word tell us would happen that would make it impossible to defend and protect ones homeland when its gates and borders are left open to strangers?

Deu 28:43 The stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee very high; and thou shalt come down very low.

When a nation does not close its borders that nation will become the "tail", a third-world country buried in unimaginable strife and chaos as prophesied in Deuteronomy 28:44-68:

Deu 28:44 He shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him: he shall be the head, and thou shalt be the tail.

Deu 28:45 Moreover all these curses shall come upon thee, and shall pursue thee, and overtake thee, till thou be destroyed; because thou hearkenedst not unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to keep his commandments and his statutes which he commanded thee:

Deu 28:46 And they shall be upon thee for a sign and for a wonder, and upon thy seed for ever.

Deu 28:47 Because thou servedst not the LORD thy God with joyfulness, and with gladness of heart, for the abundance of all things;

Deu 28:48 Therefore shalt thou serve thine enemies which the LORD shall send against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakedness, and in want of all things: and he shall put a yoke of iron upon thy neck, until he have destroyed thee.

Deu 28:49 The LORD shall bring a nation against thee from far, from the end of the earth, as swift as the eagle flieth; a nation whose tongue thou shalt not understand;

Samuel Morse throughout his life passionately and prophetically wrote regarding what would happen to this great “land of the free” if immigration were left unchecked. He knew it would literally and totally destroy America. Indeed, this generation is beginning to witness the horrendous and disastrous results of uncontrolled immigration that is demolishing the very fiber and backbone of America.

His unheeded warnings are coming back to haunt us as they come to fruition in our day. America and the world is in an almost catatonic state of disbelief at what is taking shape before their very eyes because they do not know why it's happening. Thus, America's open door policy is giving birth to the demise of this nation even though Samuel Morse strongly pleaded for the closing of our borders to immigration. It is most tragic that voices “crying in the wilderness” like Samuel Morse, Abraham Lincoln, and others, regarding the dangers of America's immigration policy, were not heeded.

In light of what is taking place today, by religio-political factions working on the exploitation and takeover of this country, his insights and warnings are priceless. They are prophetic! America has been invaded, due to its open-door policy. The majority of immigrants coming to America have no respect for the unalterable and eternal laws upon which this country was founded. Many immigrants have no love for this country and have no respect for human life. Had his warnings been acted upon, this country would not be in the desperate straits that now engulf it.

Here are some excerpts from his book that will make us wish with all our heart America had discerned the dangers and heeded his warnings long ago. He wrote in his book, Foreign Conspiracy Against the Liberties of the United States:

“Does this heading [the name of his book] seem singular? What, it will be said, is it at all probable that any nation or combination of nations, can entertain designs against us, a people so peaceable, and at the same time so distant? Knowing the daily increasing resources of this country in all the means of defense against foreign aggression, how absurd in the nations abroad to dream of a conquest on this soil? Let me; nevertheless, ask attention, while I humbly offer my reasons for believing that a conspiracy exists, that its plans are already in operation, and that we are attacked in a vulnerable quarter which cannot be defended by our ships, our forts, or our armies. (pg. 13-15)

"The writer entertaining these views has deemed it an imperative duty, at any sacrifice, to warn his countrymen, of a subtle enemy to the democracy of the country, and to conjure them as they value their civil and religious institutions, to watch the Protean shapes of Popery, to suspect and fear it most when it allies itself to our interest in the guise of a friend. Mistrust of all that Popery does, or affects to do, whether as a friend or foe in any part of the country, is the only feeling that true charity, universal charity, allows us to indulge. (Preface, pg. 12)

“Who among us is not aware that a mighty struggle of opinion is in our days agitating all the nations of Europe; that there is a war going on between despotism on one side, and liberty on the other? And with what deep anxiety should Americans watch the vicissitudes of the conflict. Having long since we achieved our own victory in the great strife between arbitrary power and freedom, having demonstrated by successful experiment before the world, the safety, the happiness, the superior excellence of a republican government, a government proceeding from the people as the true source of power; enjoying in overflowing abundance the rich blessings of such a government, must we not regard with more than common interest the efforts of mighty nations to break away from the prejudices, and habits, and sophistical opinions of ages of darkness, and struggling to attain the same glorious privileges of rational freedom? (Ibid. pg. 14)

"Americans, you indeed sleep upon a mine. This is scarcely a figure of speech; you have excitable materials in the bosom of your society, which, skillfully put in action by artful demagogues, will subvert your present social system; you have a foreign interest too, daily, hourly, increasing, ready to take advantage of every excitement, and which will shortly be beyond your control, or will be subdued only by blood. You have agents among you, men in the pay of those very foreign powers, whose every measure of foreign and domestic policy has now for its end and aim the destruction of liberty everywhere. To increase your peril, you have a press that will not apprise you of the dangers that threaten you; we can reach you with our warnings only through the religious journals; the daily press is blind, or asleep, or bribed, or enemies. (Appendix, pg. 133)

"Foreign spies have clothed themselves in a religious dress, and so awe-struck are our journalists at its sacred texture, or so unable or unwilling to discern the difference between the man and his mask, that they start away in fear, lest they should be called bigoted or intolerant, or persecuting, if they should venture to lift up the consecrated cloak that hides a foreign foe. (Appendix, pg. 134)

Samuel Morse perfectly describes the plague of political correctness rampant in our world today that silences truth and turns innocent words into hate crimes in a nation pledged to uphold free speech! History proves a nation's enemies always come clothed in a self-righteous religious garb but with a psychopath's agenda to "steal, kill and destroy."

"Americans, if you depend on your daily press, you rely on a broken reed; it fails you in your need. It dare not, no, it dare not attack Popery. It dare not drag into the light the political enemies of your liberty, because they come in the name of religion. All despotic Europe is awake and active in plotting your downfall, and yet they let you sleep, and you choose not to be awaked; "a little more sleep, a little more slumber, a little more folding of the hands to sleep." And now like a man whose house is on fire, dreaming of comfort and security, you will perhaps repel with passion and reproach the friendly hand that would wake you in season to escape with your life. (pg. 13)

"Another weak point in our system is our laws encouraging immigration, and affording facilities to naturalization. In the early state of the country liberality in these points was thought to be of advantage, as it promoted the cultivation of our wild lands, but the dangers which now threaten our free institutions from this source more than balance all advantages of this character. The great body of emigrants to this country are the hard-working mentally neglected poor of Catholic countries in Europe, who have left a land where they were enslaved, for one of freedom. However well disposed they may be to the country which protects them, and adopts them as citizens, they are not fitted to act with judgment in the political affairs of their new country, like native citizens educated from their infancy in the principles and habits of our institutions. Most of them are too ignorant to act at all for themselves, and expect to be guided wholly by others. These others are of course their priests. Priests have ruled them at home by divine right; their ignorant minds cannot ordinarily be emancipated from their habitual subjection, they will not learn nor appreciate their exemption from any such usurpation of priestly power in this country, and they are implicitly at the beck of their spiritual guides. They live surrounded by freedom, yet liberty of conscience, right of private judgment, whether in religion or politics, are as effectually excluded by the priests, as if the code of Austria already ruled the land. They form a body of men whose habits of action, (for I cannot say thought,) are opposed to the principles of our free institutions, for they are not accessible to the reasonings of the press, they cannot and do not think for themselves. (pg. 57, 58)

“Every unlettered Catholic emigrant, therefore, that comes into the country, is adding to a mass of ignorance which it will be difficult to reach by any liberal instruction, and however honest, (and I have no doubt most of them are so,) yet from the nature of things they are but obedient instruments in the hands of their more knowing leaders to accomplish the designs of their foreign masters. Republican education, were it allowed freely to come in contact with their minds, would doubtless soon furnish a remedy for an evil for which, in the existing state of things, we have no cure. It is but to continue for a few years the sort of immigration that is now daily pouring in its thousands from Europe, and our institutions, for aught that I can see, are at the mercy of a body of foreigners, officered by foreigners, and held completely under the control of a foreign power. We may then have reason to say, that we are the dupes of our own hospitality; we have sheltered in our well provided house a needy body of strangers, who, well filled with our cheer, are encouraged by the unaccustomed familiarity with which they are treated, first to upset the regulations of the household, and then to turn their host and his family out of doors. (pg. 42)

“Immigration and our Naturalization Law: The subject of immigration is one of those which demands the immediate attention of the nation, it is a question which concerns all parties: and if the writer is not mistaken in his reading of the signs of the times, the country is waking to a sense of the alarming evil produced by our naturalization laws. Let us war among ourselves in party warfare, with every lawful weapon that we can convert to our purpose. It is our birthright to have our own opinion, and earnestly to contend for it, but let us court no foreign friends. Every American should feel his national blood mount at the very thought of foreign interference. While we welcome the intelligent and persecuted of all nations and give them an asylum and a share in our privileges, let us beware lest we admit to dangerous fellowship those who cannot and will not use our hospitality aright. That such may come, and do come, there is no reason to doubt. (Note F, p. 146, 147):

“The first and immediate step that should be taken, is to press upon Congress and upon the nation, instant attention to the NATURALIZATION LAWS. We must first stop this leak in the ship, through which the muddy waters from without threaten to sink us. If we mean to keep our country, this life-boat of the world, from foundering with all the crew, we must take on board no more from the European wreck until we have safely landed and sheltered its present freight. But would you have us forfeit the character of the country as the asylum of the world? No: but it is a mistaken philanthropy indeed that would attempt to save one at the expense of the lives of thousands; that would receive into our families those dying of the plague. Our naturalization laws were never intended to convert this land into the almshouse of Europe, to cover the alarming importation of every thing in the shape of man that European tyranny thinks fit to send adrift from its shores, nor so to operate as to compel us to surrender back all the blessings of that freedom for which our fathers paid so dear a price into the keeping of its foreign enemies. No, we must have the law so amended that NO FOREIGNER WHO MAY COME INTO THE COUNTRY, AFTER THE PASSAGE OF THE NEW LAW, SHALL EVER BE ALLOWED TO EXERCISE THE ELECTIVE FRANCHISE. This alone meets the evil in its fullest extent. (pg. 148, 149)

The Hebrew poet, Emma Lazarus (July 22, 1849–November 19, 1887) born in New York City is best known for "The New Colossus", a sonnet written in 1883. Its last few lines were engraved on a bronze plaque that was hung in the Statue of Liberty museum 20 years after her death and engraved in 1902 on a bronze plaque in the pedestal of the Masonic Statute of Liberty. She was 34 when she wrote the words, “Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breathe free, The wretched refuse of your teeming shore. Send these, the homeless, tempest-tossed to me, I lift my lamp beside the golden door!” This is a sketch of Emma Lazarus made in about 1880, when she was about 30 years old. Lazarus was a Sephardic Jew, a descendant of people expelled from Spain centuries before. She often wrote about the "Jewish plight" in her poetry. She was an early Jewish nationalist — advocating for a Jewish state in Palestine as early as the 1880s. Near the end of her life she became an advocate for disenfranchised immigrants, who were arriving by the thousands in the late 1800s. Less than five years after she wrote the poem, she was dead of cancer, never knowing the impact her poem had on the nation.

This has unfortunately led the world into the mistaken belief this nation is a refuge for all the “wretched refuse” of the world. We proudly pat ourselves on the back for our charitable nature and kind hospitality to our immigrants and then go back to sleep while our enemies take advantage of our naive vulnerability. This country was never meant to be a dumping ground “for everything in the shape of man” as Samuel Morse puts it. America was the “glorious land,” the “garden of Eden” to the early settlers escaping religious persecution never expecting to ever face religious monopoly and oppression in their new country from immigrant’s intent on stealing it from them.

Samuel Morse continues to explain our serious immigration dangers, dressed in the garb of religion that is also at the root of the problem today in our Protestant nation that still must deal with religious subversive movements. He writes:

“Who can complain of injustice in the enactment of such a law? Not the native American, he is not touched by it. Certainly not the foreigner now in the country, whether naturalized or not. It cannot operate against him. It would take away no right from a single individual in any country. This law would withhold a favor, not a right from foreigners, and from those foreigners only who may hereafter come into the country. If foreigners abroad choose to take offence at the law, we are not under obligations to consult their wishes, they need not come here. This favor, it should be understood, has repeatedly been abused, and it is necessary for the safety of our institutions in future to withhold it. The pressing dangers to the country from Popery, which I think I have shown not to be fictitious; other visible indications of foreign influence in the political horizon; the bold organization of foreigners as foreigners in our elections-these all demand the instant attention of Americans, if they mean not to be robbed by foreign intrigue of their liberty and their very name. (pgs. 149, 150)

“Popery is a Political system, despotic in its organization, anti-democratic and anti-republican, and cannot therefore coexist with American republicanism. The ratio of increase of Popery is the exact ratio of decrease of civil liberty. The dominance of Popery in the United States is the certain destruction of our free institutions. (Pg. 134)

“Popery, by its organization, is wholly under the control of a FOREIGN DESPOTIC SOVEREIGN... Popery is a UNION OF CHURCH AND STATE, nor can Popery exist in this country in that plenitude of power which it claims as a divine right, and which, in the very nature of the system, it must continually strive to obtain, until such a union is consummated. Popery on this ground, therefore, is destructive to our religious as well as civil liberty. (pg. 82)

“Popery is more dangerous and more formidable than any power in the United States, on the ground that, through its despotic organization, it can concentrate its efforts for any purpose, with complete effect, and that organization being wholly under foreign control, it can have no real sympathy with anything American. The funds and intellect, and intriguing experience of all Papal and Despotic Europe, by means of agents, at this moment organized throughout our land, can, at any time, be brought in aid of the enterprises of foreign powers in this country. (pg. 82)

“These are the grounds upon which an appeal for support might be made to the patriotism, the love of liberty, the hatred of tyranny, temporal and spiritual, which belong in common to the whole Protestant American family. (pg. 83)

“But is this the plan of opposition to Popery that should be proposed, the plan which ought to be adopted by the Protestant community? No; distinctly and decidedly NO; plausible as it may appear, and perfectly in accordance as it is with the practice of politicians, the Christian community ought not, cannot adopt such an organization. There must not be a Christian party. What! shall Christianity throw aside the keen moral and intellectual arms with which alone it has gained and secured every substantial victory since the commencement of its glorious career; shall it exchange those arms of heavenly temper, "mighty in pulling down strong holds," for the paltry, earthly (I might even say infernal) weapons of party strife? Can Christianity stoop so low? Can it bring itself down from contemplating its great work of revolutionizing the world by bringing moral truth to bear on the conscience and the heart, and narrow its vision to the contracted sphere of party politics? Can it enter, without defilement, into the polluted and polluting arena of political contest? Can it consent to be bargained for by political hucksters, or have the price of its favors hawked in the market by political brokers? (pg. 83)

“Both political Parties intrigue for Catholic votes. Let neither political party throw upon its antagonist the exclusive odium of courting this foreign, priest-disciplined band. There are some of both parties who must hide their heads with shame, when real Americans, the patriots of the country, disregarding party name, shall turn their indignant eyes upon this lurking enemy of liberty, and shall apprehend the reality of this foreign conspiracy. Is either political party disposed to upbraid the other with tampering with Popery, or to congratulate itself that it has kept its own garments unspotted from the crime of this indirect treason? If either thus flatters itself, let it be dumb; let guilt stop the utterance of both. Both are deplorably, notoriously guilty. This is a truth that cannot and will not be denied. Both have bargained with these organized vassals of a foreign power. Both in their eager recklessness to triumph over each other, have aided foreign despotism to prostrate at its feet the liberties of their country, the liberties of the world.

“All parties, religious and political, are suffering, and have yet much more to suffer from the evils already produced by this their blind folly, by their culpable servility to priest-governed foreigners, their cowardly backwardness in not daring to drag into the light this covert treason, because, forsooth, it comes in a sacred garb, their wretchedly loose notions of tolerance, and charity and liberality, their shameful disregard of the consequences of their bargaining's. And is it indeed come to this? A nation of Protestant freemen, nurtured in Protestant principles, the only true principles of liberty, principles wrested from tyranny by the persevering valor of their fathers, the result of the intellectual, aye, and physical combats of centuries, the fruits of obstinately contested struggles with despotism, and superstition, and bigotry, struggles of ages against the united intrigues of kingcraft and priest-craft; Americans, thus emancipated, having enjoyed the peaceful fruits of these blood-earned truths for two centuries, at length grow careless of their treasure; they sport with their liberty as if it were nothing worth; they grow weary of guarding their happiness, they sleep on their posts, they settle down into quiet security.

“They have ships, and forts, and arms, and brave hearts to defend their shores, and so there is no danger, all is peace, for the battle has long since been won, they can now safely doff their armor, there is no further need of the watchings of the camp. Our enemies, they say, have in truth become our friends; Kings are now Republican, and the Pope, yes the Pope, (his bulls and proclamations to the contrary notwithstanding,) we hope and believe has turned a Protestant Republican, at least in this country. Let us be generous, say these descendants of ever jealous sires, let us invite our former foes to partake of our hospitality. How noble the sentiment! How will the world applaud! Let us show an example of liberality unparalleled.

“The invitation is accepted, and they flock in countless thousands to our shores; a motley band, the oppressor and the oppressed together, and their relations to each other too unchanged. They have needed no Trojan Horse to hide them from our too credulous eyes, we lead them openly into the midst of us. They parade our streets with foreign banners, already they flaunt them in our faces in derision. They even threaten us with their vengeance, and we cower beneath their frown. Yes, we plead with them to spare us, we thank them for restraining their rod, we humbly confess the sins of our ancestors, we tell them our fathers were bigoted and fanatical, they were too prejudiced against these our regal and papal friends. (pg. 83-84)

“We their children, grown more liberal, will show our freedom from narrow prejudices; we will make amends for past offences; our papal friends shall be received with open arms; we will even urge them to be the umpires in our family quarrels; we will beseech them to educate our children in their foreign principles of passive obedience; we will build for them their fortresses on our own soil, to attack our own strong holds, and then we will trust to their mercy; we shall then have delivered up to them all the keys of our house, and what will remain for us but to bow our necks beneath the foot of the Pope, and asking absolution for our own sins, and our father's sins of long rebellion against his rightful sovereignty, humbly beg a legal charter for our country, and a consecrated king for our throne?

“Can it consent to compete with Popery in the use of those instruments of intrigue, and trick, and gambling management, in which Popery is perfectly skilled from the hoarded experience of ages? Can Christians present themselves before the country and the world, in this enlightened age and country, as a mere political party? No, no; God forbid, that we should forget the holy character of our cause; let us not be caught in that snare of the enemy. The danger cry of Church and State may safely be left to the people, to trumpet aloud through the land, when the blind infatuation, which now closes their eyes, shall have been removed, and they shall be able to see, what many already see, the secret political maneuverings. (pg. 84)

“Americans! Friends of liberty; Friends of order; examine this subject, and decide with your usual sagacity and discretion. You have a busy, a crafty, a powerful, a dangerous set of foreign leaders controlling and commanding a foreign population, ignorant and infatuated, intermixed with your own population, and who at a single signal from the Pope, when the cause of despotism shall require the deed, can spread disorder and riot through all your borders. Shrink not, Americans, from looking at the truth.” (pg. 96)

fundamental principles are threatened, interests are put in jeopardy, which throw all the questions which now agitate the councils of the country into the shade. It is Liberty itself that is in danger, not the liberty of a single state, no, nor of the United States, but the liberty of the world.” (pg. 65)

Is America fulfilling prophecy today? For those who don't study world history or biblical history, the following relates to what happens when a nation unreservedly permits anyone and everyone from anywhere to enter into this “Land of the Free.” Truly, “Those who forget history are bound to repeat it!” What did the Lord warn Israel of regarding strangers in their midst? Do these texts sound like what is taking place in America?

*Deu 28:43 The stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee very high; and thou shalt come down very low.

*Deu 28:44 He shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him: he shall be the head, and thou shalt be the tail.

Deu 28:45 Moreover all these curses shall come upon thee, and shall pursue thee, and overtake thee, till thou be destroyed; because thou hearkenedst not unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to keep his commandments and his statutes which he commanded thee:

Deu 28:46 And they shall be upon thee for a sign and for a wonder, and upon thy seed for ever.

Deu 28:47 Because thou servedst not the LORD thy God with joyfulness, and with gladness of heart, for the abundance of all things;

Deu 28:48 Therefore shalt thou serve thine enemies which the LORD shall send against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakedness, and in want of all things: and he shall put a yoke of iron upon thy neck, until he have destroyed thee.

*Deu 28:49 The LORD shall bring a nation against thee from far, from the end of the earth, as swift as the eagle flieth; a nation whose tongue thou shalt not understand;

*Deu 28:50 A nation of fierce countenance, which shall not regard the person of the old, nor shew favour to the young:

Deu 28:51 And he shall eat the fruit of thy cattle, and the fruit of thy land, until thou be destroyed: which also shall not leave thee either corn, wine, or oil, or the increase of thy kine, or flocks of thy sheep, until he have destroyed thee.

*Deu 28:52 And he shall besiege thee in all thy gates, until thy high and fenced walls come down, wherein thou trustedst, throughout all thy land: and he shall besiege thee in all thy gates throughout all thy land, which the LORD thy God hath given thee.

Deu 28:58 If thou wilt not observe to do all the words of this law that are written in this book, that thou mayest fear this glorious and fearful name, THE LORD THY GOD;

Deu 28:59 Then the LORD will make thy plagues wonderful, and the plagues of thy seed, even great plagues, and of long continuance, and sore sicknesses, and of long continuance.

Senator Richard Shelby of Alabama asked: “What will happen to America when it is no longer a majority Anglo-Saxon nation?” His nostalgic question is even more relevant today. That is because the stability of the world rests largely upon Anglo-Saxon America reclaiming her former strength as a Protestant nation, premier world power, and the “head” and not the “tail!” If we remember, our forebears repeatedly warned against cohabiting with peoples from foreign nations and what would result.

Lam 4:18 They hunt our steps, that we cannot go in our streets: our end is near, our days are fulfilled; for our end is come.

Lam 4:19 Our persecutors are swifter than the eagles of the heaven: they pursued us upon the mountains, they laid wait for us in the wilderness.

Lam 4:20 ... Under his shadow we shall live among the heathen.

Lam 5:2 Our inheritance is turned to strangers, our houses to aliens.

Lam 5:3 We are orphans and fatherless, our mothers are as widows.

Lam 5:5 Our necks are under persecution: we labour, and have no rest.

Lam 5:8 Servants have ruled over us: there is none that doth deliver us out of their hand.

Lam 5:16 The crown is fallen from our head: woe unto us, that we have sinned!

Are these predictions playing out again, but this time in spiritual Israel, America? Are enemies from foreign nations coming into this Protestant nation speaking languages we do not know and cannot understand, from immigrants who do not desire to adopt our ways, our culture, our Protestant religion based on the Bible or to abide by our laws and Constitution but who want to change our constitution, our laws, our religion, our culture and our American traditions? Here is what happens when we leave our borders open:

Jer 5:15 Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from far, O house of Israel, saith the LORD: it is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say.

Jer 5:16 Their quiver is as an open sepulchre, they are all mighty men.

Jer 5:17 And they shall eat up thine harvest, and thy bread, which thy sons and thy daughters should eat: they shall eat up thy flocks and thine herds: they shall eat up thy vines and thy fig trees: they shall impoverish thy fenced cities, wherein thou trustedst, with the sword.

The Israelites were forbidden to take wives or husbands from any foreign tribe or nation. They were commanded not to marry out of their race and did not allow their sons or daughters to marry into the Canaanite nations around them. If they had taken "strange wives", they had to "put away" their "strange wives" and children. There was no divorce because marriages to foreigners were not recognized as legal and ordained of God. They had to send their "strange wives" and children back to where they came from to preserve the nation of Israel from being compromised and conquered by strangers from other nations that did not serve the Lord. If foreigners served the Lord, Israel was still forbidden to racially intermarry based on His commands established in the very beginning in Genesis 1; 6:20; 7:14; Lev 11; Deu 14. Each race or species were commanded to procreate after their "own kind."

Ezr 10:1 Now when Ezra had prayed, and when he had confessed, weeping and casting himself down before the house of God, there assembled unto him out of Israel a very great congregation of men and women and children: for the people wept very sore.

Ezr 10:2 And Shechaniah the son of Jehiel, one of the sons of Elam, answered and said unto Ezra, We have trespassed against our God, and have taken strange wives of the people of the land: yet now there is hope in Israel concerning this thing.

Ezr 10:3 Now therefore let us make a covenant with our God to put away all the wives, and such as are born of them, according to the counsel of my lord, and of those that tremble at the commandment of our God; and let it be done according to the law.

Ezr 10:10 And Ezra the priest stood up, and said unto them, Ye have transgressed, and have taken strange wives, to increase the trespass of Israel.

*Ezr 10:11 Now therefore make confession unto the LORD God of your fathers, and do his pleasure: and separate yourselves from the people of the land, and from the strange wives.

Ezr 10:12 Then all the congregation answered and said with a loud voice, As thou hast said, so must we do.

*Ezr 10:13 But the people are many, and it is a time of much rain, and we are not able to stand without, neither is this a work of one day or two: for we are many that have transgressed in this thing.

*Ezr 10:14 Let now our rulers of all the congregation stand, and let all them which have taken strange wives in our cities come at appointed times, and with them the elders of every city, and the judges thereof, until the fierce wrath of our God for this matter be turned from us.

The Creator of heaven and earth commanded His children on earth to marry within “their own kind,” race and “likeness”. But mankind disobeyed and continued their amalgamations and race mixing which has been destroying the image of God in mankind ever since Creation. Israel’s enemies finally took over the land given to His children as their inheritance. We can’t let that happen here. We can’t put people from other countries in positions of leadership over us who have no loyalty to this country or to its people, who were not born in this country. Those from other countries may have a secret agenda to populate it with their own people, religion and laws to change and conquer this nation for their own use to destroy our American homeland.

We have to remember America was established as a peace-loving Anglo-Saxon Protestant nation and, as such, there are certain principles we uphold. A Catholic, a Muslim, or other non-Protestant, non-Anglo-Saxon President could never comprehend the heart, mind and soul of this Christian nation sufficient to be its wise leader and king. They simply do not possess the background, history, culture, mindset or ideology upon which this nation was founded which intrinsically made America great and its American citizens noble. Also, women were never given a biblical mandate to sit as kings over a kingdom. Women do not have headship over men for the simple reason they were not given authority to rule over men. Adam was not taken out of Eve. Men are the rulers of people and nations. However, the "hand that rocks the cradle rules the nation" through raising noble citizens. A nation is strong when it adheres to this chain of authority.

This fact, perhaps more than any other, makes America a target of biblically antagonistic ideologies, nations and kingdoms who are determined to take America down. If they cannot make their own country great, they covet what we have and the freedom and prosperity we enjoy. Jealousy and envy have been the inciting factors in many wars. Anything good and noble is bound to be attacked by enemies from all directions that hate righteousness and who do not want America to be a great nation.

For this reason, we must actively guard our country against attack that might come in many ways and forms and from many directions. Because we are not diligent and monitoring what is coming into this country, we are being attacked on many fronts - in our educational system that teaches humanism and values clarification whose philosophies are brainwashing our children in all our schools in socialistic thinking. Our medical institutions are intent on promoting drugs, euthanasia and the depopulation agenda. Even our Protestant churches in America are changing their Protestant beliefs and are incorporating catholic, Muslim and/or pagan traditions and interpretations of Scripture into their services. Government is also seeded with change artists converting America into an alien government which is no longer “one nation under God.” Americans cannot afford to slumber. We must be awake and wise “watchmen on the walls of Zion” to protect America from enemies near and far.

Americans have foolishly assumed all immigrants come to America with the desire to live and let live, to be law-abiding citizens according to the Word of God and the Golden Rule. But, that is naïve thinking. We have failed to discern how this country has been targeted for takeover having been lulled to sleep, duped, and dumbed-down while the enemy has stolen the very ground from under our feet. Because we spend our lives pleasure-seeking, “eating, drinking, dancing, marrying and giving in marriage with no thought for tomorrow,” in our pursuit of fun and entertainment, the enemy has stealthily crept in by the millions so that our children now treat our enemies as friends and we hand them the keys to the Kingdom to help them prepare to disenfranchise us from our homes and country.

America is now paying the price for our wide-eyed naiveté and blind generosity. We are now seeing the erosion of all that America has built and stood for. Society is crumbling before our very eyes. It is being stolen right out from under our feet which has cost the lives of millions of Americans. All we do is watch helplessly as “life as we know it” becomes a thing of the past. Our ancestors fought with blood, sweat, and tears for our liberty. This generation today takes freedom for granted and lounges on their sofas with their welfare, disability and unemployment checks paying for their beer, pretzels and TV so they can watch “Days of our Lives” and “As the World Turns” blithely ignorant of our enemies “circling the wagons” ready to strike. This is our greatest peril and why we are in danger of losing our country. May God save America, not that we deserve it!

The majority of America is looking to you to restore the foundations, principles and Constitution upon which America was founded. Who knows, you may be the "anointed of the Lord" for such a time as this to "take back our country.”

“The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing.”

Sorry this is so long, but I'm just anxious for you to know about our famous inventor of the Morse Code, Samuel Morse', who fought so long and hard in 1835 to stop the "immigration menace." I wish I could send you his whole book, Foreign Conspiracy Against the Liberties of the United States, who desperately tried to save this country from its immigration plague, but it's out-of-print. I apologize I could only include a few of his paragraphs which, no doubt, is an injustice for totally failing to express the depth of his thoughts and wisdom and the underlying immigration conspiracy he addresses. There is so much at stake which makes it imperative to end immigration to protect American citizens and to save our country, which is what you intend to do!

In case you're wondering who I am, I work in the field of natural medicine and am also a Biblical researcher and writer of a 32-page newsletter that has worldwide circulation. I lost my husband several years ago due to war injuries he sustained at the time of the Vietnam War. Those were the days when war veterans received no help even though his medical bills totaled almost half a million.

My family's roots run deep in this country. My father's ancestors came to this country from Germany in the 1700's and a whole town in America is named after them. On my mother's side my Dutch great-great-grandfather wrote an amazing 210-page autobiography regarding our first ancestor who came to this country in 1620. He was one of the first settlers in New Amsterdam, now Manhattan. He was of royal blood and received large crown grants of Manhattan and the Mohawk Valley. His autobiography reveals a fascinating history of early America, forgotten in our history books, but one we should all know regarding the struggles the early settlers went through to obtain freedom and liberty for us today. His fascinating autobiography would make a great movie because America today has no idea how precious freedom is and the many sacrifices it took to obtain our liberty. We take freedom for granted and will lose our country if we don't wake up. "Those who forget history are bound to repeat it!"

If there is anything at all I can do to help you in your efforts to become President and to take this country back--stuffing envelopes, writing letters, answering phones, sending you a bottle of Come Alive to keep you going, or anything I can do to help you win the election, please let me know. Saving our country is a priority!!! Our enemies are rapidly populating this country. We have no time to lose!!!
